GIRDHARI LAL BHARGAV

Will the Minister of LABOUR be pleased to state:

(a) whether the laxity of administration in the offices of the Central Provident Fund Commissioner in Rajasthan is increasing;

(b) if so, whether any team has been sent from Delhi to Rajasthan to investigate the matter;

(c) if so, the results thereof; and

(d) the steps taken to improve the functioning of the staff of the local offices of the Central Provident Fund in the State?

Answer

MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF LABOUR (SHRI VIJAY GOEL)

(a): No, Sir.

(b) & (c): No team was sent for investigating the laxity of administration in the offices of Employees` Provident Fund Organisation in Rajasthan. However, a team of officers headed by Regional Provident Fund Commissioner visited Rajasthan for routine administrative inspection in January, 2003. The team has not pointed out any laxity of administration.

(d): The instructions/directions issued by Head Office of Employees` Provident Fund Organisation are followed by all the local/field Offices of the Employees` Provident Fund Organisation.
